Wimkin and the Million Militia March

iCOP analysts have identified a new "uncensored social media" platform named Wimkin, which is quickly becoming a new alternative to sites like Parler and Gab.[1] The founder of Wimkin, (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) stated that the site, "was designed as a place for conservatives where they can share their opinions and what they believe to be fact without having to worry about their doing time in jail."[2] The platform is found to be a hub for publicizing militia groups across the country. Moreover, iCOP analysts identified that it is also being used to promote the 'Million Militia March', a movement scheduled to take place in Washington, DC on January 20, 2021 aimed at preventing the Inauguration of President-Elect Joseph R. Biden.

Parler Takedown Disrupts Coordinated Communication

The shutdown of the social media network Parler on January 10, 2021, caused a disruption of a coordinated communications platform across right-wing conservative groups. This break in streamlined communication will very likely inhibit efforts to plan a coordinated protest similar in scale to the 'Stop the Steal' event on January 6, 2021.
